Dr. Ralph Fulsom Directs New Class

By Myla Larson

Creative dramatics for graduate students in elementary education is being offered for the first time this summer. The class is under the direction of Dr. Ralph E. Fulsom, chairman of the speech department.

Dr. Fulsom has done special work in creative dramatics at Northwestern University. He worked there with Miss Winifred Ward who began the movement in the United States.

Seventh and eighth grade children are being taught by the class. One of the main projects of the summer is Midsummer Night's Dream. No play script is used. The children under a leader create their own drama. This helps build a sense of imagination.

Miss Gorsuch Gets National Award

Miss Anna Gorsuch, supervising teacher of the fifth grade at Horace Mann Laboratory School, is one of fifty teachers awarded National Science Foundation scholarships for the Summer Institute for Elementary Personnel at the University of Kansas, June 8 to August 1.

Miss Gorsuch will work in a pilot program in biological and physical science designed to discover the most effective means of helping young children to understand basic principles of science.

The scholarship will pay expenses during the Institute and travel allowance.

A luncheon was held at 12:00 noon in the Union. The speaker for the luncheon was Miss Virginia Carson, president of the Missouri Department of Classroom Teachers. Miss Carson spoke on the activities of the Classroom Teachers Conference during the NEA meeting. A tea was held honoring Miss Carson and Miss Kline at 2:00 to 2:30 p.m. in the Union.

Three Are Officers

Miss Joye Tobin, president; Mrs. Florence Houts, vice-president, Smithville; Mrs. Ruth Hollandbeck, secretary-treasurer, Mound City, are the officers of the Classroom Teachers.

The organization is one of the departments in the District Teachers Association.

Faculty Council Receives Members

Three members of the faculty who were recently elected to the Faculty Council, Class of 1962, are Mrs. Elaine Mauzey, of the foreign language department; Dr. John S. Taylor, of the social science department; and Mr. Donald N. Valk, chairman of the industrial arts department.

Notice!

According to Dean C. E. Koerble, the Graduate Record Examination will be administered in room 207 beginning at 8:30 a.m., Saturday, June 27. This is a change from the previously set time of 1:30 p.m.

Dancers to Give Dance-Drama Duo For Student Body

Emily Frankel and Mark Ryder, American dance stars, will present a dance-drama duo at an assembly in the College auditorium, at 9:50 a.m., Wednesday, July 1.

In order to tell different stories, these dancers sometimes use jazz, be-bop, folksongs, and sounds such as trains, telephones ringing, air raid sirens, or gurgling water. Sometimes they use music by Bach or Bloch, or sometimes Sousa or Bartok.

Emily Frankel and Mark Ryder are currently touring the midwest and southwest. She was formerly a member of the Charles Weidman Dance Company, and he was a soloist in the Martha Graham Dance Company.

Linda Reaksecker Designs Emblem

Linda Reaksecker

Linda Reaksecker, freshman, is the winner of a state contest to design an emblem for the Missouri Student Council Association.

Miss Reaksecker was notified of winning the state-wide contest which included all schools operating on the student council form of government by Miss Nona Hyde, executive secretary of the Missouri Association of Student Councils. The purpose of the contest was to find a design which would be emblematic of the association.

A coat of arms was the winning design by Miss Reaksecker, who fashioned it into three types of drawings, one for a gold-filled pin, one for a color reproduction, and one for various types of printing. The design included the Missouri State Seal, a star which represents Missouri as the 24th state, a seated lion which in medieval heraldry represents counsel, the lamp of knowledge, and the torch of freedom.

Linda is working toward a B. S. degree, secondary, in vocational home economics.

Workshop Theme to Be School Health Fitness

"Fitness Through Health Education" will be the theme of the school health workshop to be held tomorrow, Thursday, June 25, in the Union.

Activities will begin at 10 a.m. with a welcome by President J. W. Jones. Dr. H. D. Peterson, chairman of the division of physical education, will be coordinator of the workshop. Dr. Lynn Garner, State Department of Health, Jefferson City, will give the keynote address at 10:30 a.m. on the topic "Health Education in Missouri." Following the address a conference of discussion leaders, experts, resource persons, recorders, and friends from the State Division of Health will be held. Luncheon will be served at 12 noon in the Union.

NCA Re-accredits College, May 1-2

Northwest Missouri State College was re-accredited by the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education, Washington, D. C., at a meeting May 1-2.

This re-accreditation, with the master's degree as the highest degree approved, is for the preparation of elementary teachers, secondary teachers, and school service personnel. The accreditation is for a period of ten years.

Students Choose History as Theme

"American History, 1492-1959" will be the over-all theme for the 1959 Homecoming to be held October 16 and 17. According to present plans, this theme will apply to all activities, including the parade, house decorations, variety show, and dance.

Composed of representatives from interested campus organizations, under the direction of Dr. John Harr, a central planning committee has met, chosen the theme, set deadlines, and set up committees.

Elects Merrick and Simmons

Miss Nancy Merrick and William Simmons were elected by the central committee to oversee plans as co-chairmen. Together with Dr. Harr, Merrick and Simmons have established committees in charge of each phase of the

Miss Mabel Cook Gets Appointment

Miss Mabel Cook

Miss Mabel Cook, chairman of the College department of home economics, has been appointed to the summer visiting faculty in education at the University of Missouri.

Miss Cook will assist with the four-week Home Economics Education Workshop, June 15-July 10.

Board Approves New Selections

The College board of regents has approved the appointments of Richard A. Hesler to the speech and English department, Dr. H. D. Gailey as chairman of the department of humanities, Miss Eleanor Caldwell and Mrs. Helen B. Davis to the art department, and Robert Charles Davis to the physical science department.

The board approved Mrs. Marjorie Person's leave of absence for summer, 1959, and academic year, 1959 and '60, to attend the University of Indiana.

Miss Mabel Winburn Retires After Thirty Years of Service

After 30 years of serving from her music, two presidents of her beloved College and greeting thousands of students going through her office, Miss Mabel Clair Winburn, secretary to the late Dr. Uel W. Lamkin, and Dr. J. W. Jones, present head of the College, has retired.

She was given special recognition for her service to the College by President Jones at the commencement exercises, Thursday, May 28.

To Miss Winburn it seems as if it were only yesterday that she was teaching in Platte County rural schools in the fall and spring months and attending the College here in the summer.

She Earned Degree in 1929

In the summer commencement of 1929 she, a young rural school teacher from Weston, was awarded a degree in commerce and sociology at Northwest State College. She soon returned to school, not as a student, but as secretary to the late Dr. Uel W. Lamkin, president of the College from 1921 to 1945. She continued as secretary to the president of the College, when Dr. J. W. Jones, then dean of faculty, succeeded Dr. Lamkin.

She will now have more time to spend with her stamp collections, since she has been an ardent philatelist for many years. And she will continue to draw much more of the American Association of University Women, having served several years as treasurer. She is a member of the Christian Church.

Miss Winburn will be missed by faculty, students, and fellow workers alike at the College. While at her work, she met many people and made many friends.

Rocky Road to Higher Education

"It takes strength," she sighed apprehensively as she carefully and deliberately selected what looked to be a more or less—usually—less—firm footing on the slipping and slithering stones. "It takes strength, real strength, and courage, and balance, and intestinal fortitude, and —."

Here the typical, not-so-young summer college student, who was making her slow way toward the beautiful new Arts and Science building at Northwest Missouri State College, made a wrong guess—or else the mischievous and fun-loving rocks caught her momentarily inattentive and surreptitiously made a quick lateral shift—and one foot headed for the college pond while the other ended up somewhere in left field.

HER FELLOW students, who were gingerly making their own way over the tricky stones, floundered awkwardly in their valiant effort to preserve her—well her dignity, but they barely succeeded in saving their own. The somewhat loquacious student made a nice recovery, brushed herself off, methodically gathered up her books, and continued her almost uninterrupted soliloquy.

"Well," she said as she headed determinedly toward her goal, "my son told me to live it up, to live dangerously while I'm a coed this summer, and I think he meant to be facetious but that's just what I'm doing. But see how innocent, how submissive, how unresisting they look, then just as I put an unsuspecting foot down the whole backfield shifts and I don't have a prayer."

SHE MOANED as she proceeded with difficulty. "Now there's a rock in my shoe. Engineer boots would be just the thing for executing this obstacle course," the voluble and persevering student observed judiciously as she resignedly limped along with one foot on the grass (for safety insurance) and the other on the rocky pathway.

The tense and faltering group sighed with relief when they reached the security of the entrance to the building. Here they leaned limply against the wall to recover their composure, to empty scooped-up rocks, and to take a quick inventory of chipped and broken heels and scuffed leather.

"JUST LIKE the mail, we always get through," the talkative student exclaimed triumphantly as she tenderly rubbed her rock-abused foot. "Rumor has it that it'll be August before the walks are poured, and in that case there will be a fine battle-scarred group testamentary of the stamina of the typical school teacher."

She gave her scolding and reproachful foot a final placating pat, put on her shoe and left her fellow students with a philosophical observation. "It's a rocky road to a higher education, but remember, girls, we're expendable. Brains are a fine attribute for a college student but right now I'd rather be endowed with the agility of a mountain goat, the sure-footedness of a pack mule, and the pertinacity of a Missouri mosquito."

College Roses Add Beauty to Campus

By Colleen Wilmes

In the hustle and bustle of accelerated courses and excessive temperatures, the lovely rose beds just south of the Administration building are a refreshing sight to students, faculty and visitors.

Few people who see the beauty have passed without some thought of the peacefulness of the view. Students scurrying by the rose beds catch glimpses of the resplendent colors.

Each day some of the blossoms wilt but new ones replace them. It is possible to compare this natural replacement of roses to everyday changes of the problems and experiences of life.

Pre-judging of parade floats will be held beginning at 9 a.m., Saturday, at the Fourth Street parking lot, weather permitting. If weather does not permit, all organizations will be notified before 8 a.m. The parade will begin at 10 a.m., and the entries will be judged again along the parade route. Floats will be on display following the parade.

October 1 Is Sketch Deadline

Ideas and sketches for parade floats and house decorations must be submitted to Dr. Harr by October 1. Dates for alumni banquets and entries in the queen contest must be turned in by September 21.

Ideas for variety show skits must be submitted by September 21 and the scripts by October 1.

All campus organizations will be urged to enter a candidate in the Homecoming queen contest which will be held the same as last year. Candidates will be judged by outside judges, and all but five eliminated. The top five candidates will be voted on by the student body of the College to determine the winner.

College Students Form Basis of Softball Teams

By Don Schoeler

Softballs slashing the sunset at Maryville's Beal Park are predominantly College propelled. College men have formed the nuclei of two softball teams in an eight-team league, which sees action each Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday nights.

Twilight-night games are played at 7 and 9 p.m. The Scrappers, managed by Jim Mitchell, a social science major, hail from the College Park. They have posted a 2-0 record, including an exciting 3-2 victory over Nodaway Lanes, Monday, June 15.

Neville Manages Vets Team
Management of the Vets Village team is accorded to Dan Neville who, in the role of Village potentate, has directed his softball nine to a 2-0 record.

Odds-on favorites to cop the first round of the 'round robin' reside in the two College teams and the Punkin Center Cadavers. As a matter of record, the last team has chosen the rather inconspicuous title of Nodaway Lanes.

Favorites Have Speed

Basis for the pre-tourney favorites rests in the tremendous velocity with which the collegiates have been known to exhibit as they orbit the base paths. In short, the College teams have speed while the Lanes have a fine moundsman and receiver.

Rounding out the eight team league are the Laura St. Baptists, Jaycees, City, Assembly of God, and the Methodist Church. These teams will play two rounds of 'round robin' action. The first round will terminate July 7.

Games remaining in the first round which feature the College teams will begin Thursday night, June 25, as the College teams meet each other for the first time. Game time is slated for 7 p.m. The winner has the inside track to the first round championship.

Many Games Are Scheduled

Other games will be played June 30 with the Scrappers against the Laura St. Baptists, at 7 p.m. The 9 p.m. game, July 2, will pit Vets Village against the Methodist Church nine. The night of July 7 will be a full evening of College action. The opener will find the Vets Village team versus Assembly of God and the Scrap-pers meet City in the finale.

Dictators of the summer softball league are Jack Anderson, Dale Cramer, Everett Whitehead, and Willard VanBuren. These college men have been selected to officiate the contests.

Mr. Ryland Milner Announces Games For '59 Football

An eight-game football and an incomplete 17-game basketball schedule for the 1959-60 year has been announced by Ryland Milner, athletic director.

There still are three games to be booked for the cage schedule.

Milner has also announced that an MIAA cage tourney will be held at Kirksville Dec. 27-28-29, with all six teams of the loop playing, along with two invited teams. Kirksville was named by lot to hold the first meet. Maryville will be host in three years.

Coach Paul Turner's football team will open an eight-game grid schedule at home Sept. 19 when they meet the Bemidji, Minn., State College gridders in a night game.

There will be four home and four games on the road.

Two of the home games will be played under lights; the other two are in the afternoon.

The annual College Homecoming game will be played against the Springfield Bears Oct. 17.

Games on the schedule are: Sept. 19—Bemidji, Minn., here, night. Sept. 26—Ft. Hays State, here, night. Oct. 3—William Jewell, there, night. Oct. 10—Cape Girardeau, there, night. Oct. 17—Springfield, here, Homecoming Day. Oct. 24—Warrensburg, there, day. Oct. 31—Rolla, here, day. Nov. 7—Kirksville, there, day.

Notice!

Dr. H. D. Peterson, chairman of the department of physical education, needs a lifeguard at the College pool Tuesday and Thursday afternoons between 4:00 and 5:30 p.m. Applicants, who must have a Red Cross senior life-saving certificate, are to contact Dr. Peterson in his office at the gymnasium.

Two College Men Guide Young Boys In Little League

Anderson is enjoying his second summer as Little League

gue director in Maryville. His personal baseball record includes four years of high school baseball at Bagley where he became established as the outstanding second sacker.

As a freshman at Iowa State Teachers College, Anderson participated in spring baseball. During his tour of duty in the Armed Forces, Anderson increased his baseball experience.

He Wins Work Honors

Youth work honors went to Anderson this spring when his small fry basketball team coped the city championship.

Dale Cramer's outstanding baseball career began in Missouri and hop-skipped from Colorado to Europe and back to Iowa before he entered his home state again.

Beal Park Is Popular This Summer

Recent baseball activity at Beal Park included this hot box scene. On the left, Jim Dinsdale of the Maryville Redlegs is tagging an unidentified St. Joseph player in the seventh inning. In catcher's regalia is Nathan Willis. The pitcher, Dale Huersch, is in the process of backing up an anticipated play at home plate. The Redlegs won the game 8-6 from the Anchor Serum team from St. Joseph.

Three years of Little League baseball in Chillicothe inaugurated his career. After six years of American Junior Legion ball, Cramer entered the Ban Johnson league where he was named to area All-Star teams for three consecutive years.

Southern Missouri's Ozark Baseball Camp sought, and acquired, Cramer's services for a three-week summer stand. Previously, he had participated in a Denver, Colorado, league.

He Attended Westminster

Adept at both the third base and second base positions, Cramer began his college career at Westminster College, an all male school at Fulton. As a starter for that college, he helped attain third place in the M.C.A.U. conference.

Following his fresh man year, Cramer enlisted in the Armed Forces, where additional stars awaited his already starlit baseball crown. Two years of service ball as a starter for Headquarters Company in Orleans, France, resulted in as many All-Europe baseball championships.

He Has Coached in France

While in France, Cramer's coaching abilities were tested in Little League baseball and baseball activities. His Little League baseball team captured the Orleans Little League championship.

Last summer, Cramer entered civilian ball in a semi-pro league at Mason City, Iowa. Cramer's flashy glove abilities earned the third base spot for him.

Sports activities at the College have seen him as an "M" winner in both baseball and basketball. Currently, he is playing shortstop for the Maryville Redlegs.

Both Guide Many Boys

Maryville's Little League program began the second week in June and will continue until the first of August. There are approximately 240 boys, ranging from eight to fifteen years of age, under the guidance of Cramer and Anderson.

Little League action takes place daily from 1:30 p.m. to 5 p.m. at Beal Park.

Athletes Receive

Some 32 athletic letters were awarded to participants in the spring sports program.

In tennis, Dr. Frank Grube lettered five men for their efforts. Coach Paul Turner awarded monograms to 12 track and field men, and Coach Marion Moss gave recognition to 15 members of the Bearcat crew.
